Each Party will use at least the same degree of care to prevent unauthorized use and disclosure of such Confidential Information as that Party uses with respect to its own Confidential Information of similar sensitivity (but in no event less than a reasonable degree of care). The foregoing obligations will not restrict either party from disclosing Confidential Information of the other Party: (a) pursuant to a legally binding governmental order, provided that the Party required to make such a disclosure gives reasonable notice to the other Party (unless prohibited by the relevant Ordering Document) to contest such order or seek protective measures against such disclosure, and (b) on a confidential basis to its legal or financial advisors. ExtraHop will have exclusive control of the defense and settlement of such Claim; provided, however, that Customer will reasonably cooperate with ExtraHop in the defense and settlement of such Claim and may employ its own counsel in a noncontrolling matter at Customer's own expense. ExtraHop may settle any Claim without Customer's written consent unless such settlement: (a) does not include a release of all covered claims pending against Customer; (b) contains an admission of liability or wrongdoing by Customer; or (c) imposes any obligations upon Customer other than an obligation to cease using any infringing items.

9 Limitation of Liability.

This Agreement may only be modified or supplemented, or any rights under it waived, by a written document executed by both Parties. All provisions of this Agreement are severable, and the unenforceability or invalidity of any portion of the provisions of this Agreement shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions of the Agreement. - 13.8 Independent Contractors; Third Party Rights. ExtraHop will perform any services hereunder as an independent contractor, and nothing herein will be construed to create an employment, partnership, joint venture or other principal-agent relationship between the Parties.
